EXPERIENCE

1. Product Specialist, Your Light

Aug 2026

Wellbeing app · App Store ↗

- End-to-end ownership: idea, user needs, scope, brand system, App Store listing and release. Addressed App Review feedback. Available in English, Malay and Chinese.
- Brand system: colours, typography, icon and tone of voice.
- Growth framework (AARRR): used the AARRR funnel to shape the app. Acquisition through the App Store listing in 3 languages, activation with one small action a day, retention with rewards, streaks and gentle reminders, referral through friend invitations, and revenue through subscriptions.

Key features and what is behind them

- Push messaging: set up Firebase Cloud Messaging for Android and Apple push for iPhone.
- Backend: Supabase for accounts, database and server functions, with sign-in by Apple, Google or email.
- Real-time testing: AWS Amplify for real-time testing of the app.
- Email: Resend for sign-up and password emails.
- Amplitude: product analytics to track the funnel from sign-up to small steps started, finished and shared. Counts actions only, never feelings or personal text, and users can turn it off.
- Crash reports: Sentry to catch and fix crashes.
- Payments: decided on RevenueCat as the one subscription and payments layer across Apple and Google (iPhone first).
- AI chatbot (Super Light): LLM assistant on the Claude API that breaks a problem into small steps. I wrote the conversation and safety rules, and set user consent, access checks and a monthly cost cap per user.
- AI learning assistant: implemented an in-app AI assistant on each learning activity. Users tap the Your Light button to get the page explained, and help with how to reply or answer.
- Rewards and gamification: “baby lights” earned for finishing steps and chapters, certificates, sound and haptics, and a gentle streak revival with no pressure.
- Product features: one small action a day, mood check-ins, friends by invitation, gentle reminders, learning courses with games.
